

We are pleased to announce that the Open Access version of Law in Context: A Socio-legal Journal Issue 36 \(2\) has been published.

Law in Context: A Socio-Legal Journal is a well-established double-blind peer reviewed journal publishing material dealing with contextual studies in law, culture, history, politics and social sciences. Its first edition was published in 1983, making it one of the earliest journals in the world to focus on contextual studies in law.

Law in Context is an Open Access Journal, published online using the latest version of the industry standard publishing system OJS. All past issues are being digitised and are being made incrementally accessible online.

After the successful issue of the first on-line edition of Law in Context, Volume 36 Number 1, the Editors have great pleasure in announcing the publication of the second on-line general issue: Volume 36 Number 2. The Contents are:

1. Savitri Taylor (La Trobe University). Editorial
2. The Hon. Michael Kirby. AC CMG. Health, Law and Sexuality. Qui Cherche Trouve.
3. Peter Goodrich (Cardozo Law School, USA). Jurisliterature and Transgression
4. Rene Cornish, Kieran Tranter (Queensland University of Technology). The Cultural, Economic and Technical Milieu of Social Media Misconduct Dismissals in Australia and South Africa.
5. Chris Culnane and Kobi Leins (Melbourne University). Misconceptions in Privacy Protection and Regulation.

6. Eleonora Bassi (University of Turin) Urban Unmanned Aerial Systems Operations: on Privacy, Data Protection, and Surveillance.
7. Carles Górriz (Autonomous University of Barcelona): Incumbent Strategies Against Collaborative Platforms: Lessons from the Battle Between Taxi Drivers and Uber In Spain
8. Nicholas Morris, Sue Jaffer and Louis de Koker (La Trobe University): Regulating Financial Services in an Era of Technological Disruption.

LIC 36 (2) deals with matters ranging from the health impact of socio-legal systems which discriminate on the basis of sexuality to the response of law to the invasions of privacy and data protection by unmanned aerial systems. Technological disruption figures in relation to worker dismissals, the financial sector and the personal transportation industry. And Peter Goodrich muses on law as a literary genre. We are now seeking articles, research notes and book reviews for publication in Law in Context. All submitted material will be reviewed and a decision as to publication will be made, in principle, within a four-week turn-around from submission. Articles are published online shortly after acceptance and in advance of being assigned to an issue.
